WHO IS NOEL COWARD?

In the early 1920's Noel Coward established himself as the most versatile, most sophisticated theatre craftsman of his generation. With seemingly equal ease he wrote plays and acted in them, wrote tunes and words for musicals and directed, sang, danced, and acted in them!

In the years that followed, he turned out 31 successful plays, 11 splendid musicals, 6 movies, 2 novels, and 12 other books — all while continuing to act!

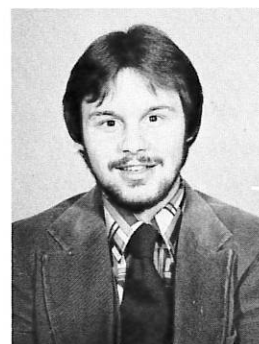

His cleverness and suave, brittle personality opened the most exclusive doors in New York to him. He could imperiously set a 12-week limitation on the run of any of his shows that he chose to appear in and be guaranteed that playgoers would bid furiously for every last seat available.

Coward's seventieth birthday was the occasion of a big bash in London. The Queen's gift to him was knighthood. Thereafter, he was to be known as Sir Noel.

Sir Noel appeared for the last time in New York on December 16, 1972, to attend a performance of the hugely successful tribute to him, Oh Coward! As you will see, Oh Coward! is a delightful mélange of his songs, as well as bits and pieces of dialogue from all of his greatest works, put together to give you an evening of pleasure, charm, and sophisticated fun.

At almost the same time as DLO's tribute to Sir Noel opens in Danville, Coward's greatest hit, Private Lives will be revived in New York starring Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton.

And now, sit back and enjoy an evening of real theatre!

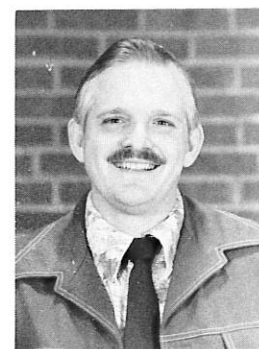

THE CAST

DAVID E. LAKER — David is stepping directly from his role as the villainous Mordred in last December's Camelot into a starring part in a totally different kind of musical, proving once again the versatility he has always displayed in over a decade of theatrical work. Danville audiences will remember David as Jerry/Daphne in DLO's Sugar and as "Bogey" in Red Mask's Play It Again, Sam. He is currently living in Champaign-Urbana, where he works as a waiter for Snaks Fifth Avenue and does occasional stand-up comedy on weekends at the Ramada Inn. His hobbies include collecting comic books, watching old movies, and reading. After Camelot and Oh Coward!, David is looking forward to auditions for How to Succeed in Business . . . so that he can prove that he can speak without a British accent.

NANCY NICHOLS — A few years ago the lights at the Kankakee Valley Theatre went up on Nancy Nichols as Cecily Pigeon in The Odd Couple, and she quickly discovered that special happiness that only someone "hooked" on performing can experience. After roles in My Fair Lady (she sang 15 notes!), Jesus Christ Superstar, and The Sound of Music, she moved to Danville, where local audiences first enjoyed her as Rose in God's Favorite at Red Mask. Other memorable Red Mask parts followed. She has appeared in five shows for Sunshine II, including Barefoot in the Park and See How They Run. At the Station Theatre in Urbana, Nancy played Solange La Fitte in Follies and Mama in Chicago. She has also had several "fun" roles in Christian Arts Productions. Oh Coward! brings Nancy to the DLO stage for the first time. We welcome her.

DAVID FEAGANS — Dave graduated from the University of Evansville with a bachelor's degree in music education. While there, he participated in Concert Band and Choir, Marching Band, Varsity Band, Chapel Choir, Campus Choir, and Clarinet Ensemble. Dave moved to Danville in 1969 and taught strings, Marching Band, Concert Band, and music theory in District 118. He has received his master's degree in music education from the University of Illinois. He has directed three church choirs and presently sings tenor in the choir at St. James United Methodist Church. A soloist in many functions in the Danville area, Dave played the male lead in DLO's production of Bells Are Ringing and was the musical director of our first show this season, Camelot.

THE DIRECTORS

MARY LOU SPAIN — Mary Lou, a DLO veteran and past president, is serving her seventh term as the organization's secretary. Since majoring in drama at Drake University, she has appeared in and directed both professional and non-professional productions of all kinds for many years. As a church elder, teacher, and soloist, she keeps pretty busy. Much of her remaining time is filled with other community efforts. Although she speaks and entertains widely in this area, she states there's no facet of entertainment as fulfilling as musical theatre, such as that done by DLO!

DANIEL J. MILLER — Although Oh Coward! marks Dan's directing debut in the Danville area, his association with DLO began 10 years ago. Since returning to Danville after attending college in New Hampshire, he has been very active in the musical community, performing with the Danville Municipal Band, playing in various show orchestras, and most recently joining the prestigious Danville Woodwind Quintet. Dan is serving his second term as president of DANVILLE LIGHT OPERA and will have produced seven shows for DLO at the end of this term. He serves as a member of the Executive Committee of the Danville Musicians' Association, Local 90 of the American Federation of Musicians, and is a director of the Danville Area Arts Council, the Danville Municipal Band, and the Danville Artists Coalition. He is the Fund Administrator of the Music Performance Trust Fund. Dan is employed by Vermilion County Abstract Company.

KATHLEEN SPAIN — Kathleen is participating in her ninth DLO season. Her debut was in the 1974 production of South Pacific, and her last affiliation with DANVILLE LIGHT OPERA was Camelot in 1982, in which she played Guenevere. Oh Coward! marks her second choreographic stint with DLO, her first being The Unsinkable Molly Brown (1981). Kathleen has also done choreography for the DHS Contemporaires and Danville Chapter of Sweet Adelines. She has been Junior Choir director at Central Christian Church for one year and has directed and taught for the church's Summer Parish Music Program. Kathleen achieved her degree in elementary education from ISU last May and is currently a substitute teacher for District 118.

DANVILLE LIGHT OPERA'S SPRING PRODUCTION

A tuneful tale of officemanship—i.e., how to maneuver your way to the top over the bodies of other executives. The songs are by Frank Loesser, who put a crap game to music in Guys and Dolls. He even has a tune for a board meeting, kind of a funeral dirge but uproarious.
