I Hear America Singing

I hear America singing, the varied carols I hear,
 Those of mechanics, each one singing his as it should be blithe and strong.
 The carpenter singing his as he measures his plank or beam,
 The mason singing his as he makes reads for work, or leaves off work,
 The boatman singing what belongs to him in his boat, the deckhand singing on the steamboat deck,
 The shoemaker singing as he sits on his bench, the hatter singing as he stands,
 The wood-cutter's song, the ploughboy's on his way in the morning, or at noon intermission or at sundown,
 The delicious singing of the mother, or of the young wife at work, or of the girl sewing or washing,
 Each singing what belongs to him or her and to none else,
 The day what belongs to the day — at night the party of young fellows,
 robust, friendly,
 Singing with open mouths their strong melodious songs.

BIOGRAPHIES

Amanda Allhands (Heather Lamb, operator)

A veteran of both Red Mask and Danville Light Opera, Amanda has been performing since age nine. Past DLO shows include, Annie Warbucks and Sleeping Beauty. Amanda is a membership processor at Blue Cross/Blue Shield and would like to thank her mom, dad, and sister for their love and constant support.

Roberta Marr Cundiff (Roberta Victor, hooker)

Roberta was seen on stage last summer as a Kit-Kat girl for the Fischer Theater's Cabaret. She also appeared in Danville Light Opera's, JC Superstar and Red Mask Theatre's one-act plays. Her "real life" job is at Crosspoint Human Services, where she works as a Licensed Clinical Professional Counselor.

Leonard "Sonny" Downing (Joe Zutty, retired)

Sonny has performed with almost every group in the area for over 20 years. He says it's hard to choose favorite shows because he has been privileged to play so many good character roles. Sonny thanks Greg for including him in Working, and also his wife Sandy and his family for their love, patience and understanding.

Jeanne Dunn (Enid DuBois, telephone solicitor)

Before relocating from Massachusetts in 1996, Jeanne was very active in all aspects of community theatre. Her busy life since then kept her from the stage until she appeared in DLO's Blood Brothers. With her husband in Egypt, Jeanne dedicates her performance to her mom, Nancy Simpson, who flew in from New Jersey to make this possible.

Anna Beth Gilmour (Stage Manager)

For many years Anna Beth has been in the audience watching her husband have all the fun. She hasn't participated in a show since high school and she is excited to be part of Working. Anna Beth thanks Greg for giving her the opportunity. She also sends love to her husband Jim, her favorite actor! Anna Beth's "day job" is teaching second grade at Bismarck.

Jim Gilmour (Herb Rosen, corporate executive)

This is Jim's sixth Danville Light Opera show. He has appeared in the recent DLO productions of Blood Brothers and The Fantasticks. Jim has also been active with Red Mask Players, his favorite productions there being Same Time Next Year and 6 Rms River View. He sends thanks to his wife (the stage manager) for all her help and support.

Karen Grove (Accompanist)

Working is Karen's fifth Danville Light Opera show. She has accompanied or played in the orchestra for Blood Brothers, Annie and Chicago and was the music director for South Pacific. Karen is a third grade teacher at Oakwood and also active in music activities at her church. She thanks her husband for all his support during rehearsals.

Erin Halls (Grace Clements, millworker)

Erin has been involved with DLO since her appearance in the 1986 production of Shenandoah. She has also been in several productions at The Beef House Dinner Theatre, and is in her church praise band. She spends many hours going from sport to sport supporting her four children's sports activities, in addition to working as a Senior Supervisor at Blue Cross/Blue Shield.

Stephanie LaReau (Pam "Babe" Secoli, checker)

Working is Stephanie's first DLO production. She is part of her church Praise team and works as a private practice Speech-Language Pathologist with children age birth to 3. Stephanie thanks her parents for nurturing the gift of music that God has entrusted to her. She also sends thanks to her husband Darren and two daughters for their support and encouragement.

Pat Linn (Frank Decker, truck driver)

Pat is a familiar face in Danville area community theatre, and when not on the Danville Light Opera stage "working" Pat can be found working at 35,000 feet as a Southwest Airlines Flight Attendant. He would like to thank his mom for her love, support, encouragement, and especially for taking such good care of his Jack Russell "terrorist", Gracie, while he's traveling.

Angie Mansfield (Choreographer)

FROM THE DIRECTOR

This is a musical with no hero, no villain, no leading lady, and no ingénue. The characters of Working are people — fascinating, funny, flawed, real people to whom we can all relate. In story and song, these characters will invite you to see them as they see themselves and, more importantly, how they imagine themselves.

You'll meet the Teacher, the Waitress, the Mason, and the Trucker. Conspicuously absent from the myriad job titles is that of the Actor. The Actor was likely excluded from the script because actors often work without pay, and this is a play about how people earn money. The actors in this production spend their days as full-time wage earners. For the last two months, at the end of every workday, when their colleagues returned home to their families, these actors rushed to Center Stage for rehearsal. Volunteering their time and talents, they are amateurs in the truest sense of the word: they perform out of love. This company is made up of some of the hardest-working people I know.

— Greg Williams
